Mrs. Anna Surratt,

A correspondent of the Columbia, Tenn., Herald, writing from Washington, relates the oft-teld tale of the judicial murder of Mrs. Surratt, as imparted to him by John W. Clam. pitt, esq. Mr. Clampitt was then in his 26th year, and on the night of the murder was just passing from his office, when a gentleman rushed by and said excited'y, "President Lincoln has been mu:dered-and John Wilkes Booth did it !" Those who heard him thought the man crazy, but Mr. Clampitt saw a great crowd surging to and fro among the people. The correspondent continues:

Immediately be pushed to Ford's theatre. but with great difficulty got through the crowd and saw the wounded President-not quite dead. By and by, curses loud and deep readed the very heavens. Cavalry were swarming every street and avenue. The well known sympa-thizers of the South "hid out," and made themselves very scarce. A night or two before that Richmond had fallen, and Washington was as bright as day. Joy unconfined reigned everywhere. The rocket's red glare was seen at every point in the heavens. The expling cionon shook the surrounding hills. Every home and tenement was illuminated. Lincoln appeared before the people, and called for the or any other city in the Union. Respectfully bands to play Dixie, saying jeesely, "We have yours, ountured the song too !" In that hour of the greatest triumph that mortal man ever saw, the President was warm hearted and kindly disposed towards the South. How strange the charge! The victor of this night was in a few short hours suddenly hurried to the great hereafter! No wonder there was exestement. In a few hours every home in Washington was draped in mourning-not to de it was to become the especial mark of the hoetage and politings of the mob.

Mrs. Surrate's boarding house was heavily adorned with the funeral symbol. In a few ours she was laying upon the straw covered firer of the old Arsonal-sick, broken hearted and niterly constant. The leading lawyers-all lawyers-of the vicinity were entreated to go to ber bedeide and take her case. Almost all ber bedride and take her esse. Almost all framed miserable and shulling excuses. Such an icfamy and such a diegrace never fell on any country, or upon any her before. A profession in the leading land of liberty in all fide of time, taltered and flickered in that awful hour; a profession assed the world over and in all ages for its heroes furnished but three in this crisis. It has before affective, and there may be shed to fluid's Expecterant, and I confess my surprise at its wonderful power. During a practice of twenty years I have never known a modicine to act as pramathy and with such knew tick of coughing, and invanishly cured the disease of silver, and he read of all men for all time to come. They are Reverdy Johnson, John W. Clampitt and Mr. Aiken. These three time to come. They are Reverdy Johnson, John W. Clampitt and Mr. Aiken. These three seeing nothing but duty, and esseing all fear of the present from them, stood by her and with her until cruet hangmon carried her np, more dead than alive, to the gallows .-Claropits, as soon as cent for, went to the arsoant and took her case. Day and night, without the hope of fee or reward, he labored for her. A court matial was convened-a court martial to purchase soup tickets for the poor can get them at my store at any time during the day, and will be allowed a discount on the above price. Soup will be corved from 12 m. until 2 in the variant for it? It was doze. Men of the priny, wholly ignorant of the forms of iaw and the dictates of equity, were called to compose a tribunal to try Mrs. Surratt, Payne, Harold, and Atzerot. Not one of these persons > greatest constitutional lawyer since the days of Webster, lausched his keepest thunderbolts at the illegal and unconstitutional court, but in vain. They insulted him and madly drove him from their presence. With the infamous Joe Holt as judge advecate, they pushed things with a high hand. The prisoners were brought in heavily iroued at every sitting. The so called court sat from April until July.

> Every day the accursed managles rattled in the hearing of her counsel. The court was organ zed to convict. Not satisfied with insulting Johnson, General Lew Wallace remarked that he despised the men who were secking

Oysters, the pick of the market, and cheap as choapest, in all styles. Nice comfertable recems to serve ladies or gentlemen.
He caters for families and entertainments, and supplies families with milk and overters. Ideals:

Was organized to do justice—not to couvier. was organized to do justice-not to convict. I will let the member know that it is the duty of the counsel for the defense to use every means legitimately to sift the witnesses. The means legitimately to sift the witnesses. The TUTT'S PILLS member must remember that he is before the Cure Torpid Liver, Dyspepsia and Costivepeople as a judge, and that he cannot ride over | ness. precedents with impunity. He is not riding his horse at Monocacy now." Wallace had been accused of running at Monocacy Bridge.

One day Clampitt felt a touch upon his shoulder, and turned around to see who it was, It was Harold, a mere boy. He said, "I wish you would give m. envelope and postage stamp, and some paper. I want to write a lotter to Ben Wood. I am getting pretty d-d tried of this thing." Clampitt reached over and told Holt what the boy had said, and he laughed immoderately. The trial progressed and the prisoners were convicted. Then the trouble come on Clampitt in a perfect flood tide. He and Miss Anna Surratt went to Judge Wylie, and he granted a writ of habeas corpus to sus pend the execution, but this was suspended by an order of Andrew Johnson. They went to Joe Holt, and upon her bended knee the daughter besought this fiend to see the Presi dent and save her mother. He finally consented togo. As he was coming out of the White House the daughter met him. He informed her then that Johnson was implacable. Johnson afterwords said that Holt never came to him, Clam pitt says that every avenue to the President was closed against him and the poor girl. They never saw him. One sultry day in July, 1865, they were executed in the old arsonal. Clampitt went to see Mrs. Surratt. She was lying on the same bed of straw with a Catholic priest attending her. He reached over and seized her hand. It was limp and almost lifeless. She turned her languid eyes full upon him. "Mrs. Surrait, I have not slept a wink in 48 hours. I have tried everything, and in every war, to get 2 in cans 10c, for sale at relief. There is no hope. Farewell!" He went feb 17 into another room. Handock orms in and poured out a class of whiskey, and said: "I have fought through the war conscien lously. I have been in the very mouth of hell, in battle. I would rather to there to-day than to give the order for the ex cution of this poor woman. But I am a soldier. I have to act like a soldier. I must obey orders. Proceed with the execution. Soon the saddest and most mournful precession started for the gallows. Herold, a mere bay, came along crying like a child .-Azierot tried to talk, but broke down. Psyne was game and definet.

And then the most awful sight that man ever gazed upon was seen. The huge soldiers carrying Miss. Surrant in their arms. In front of them walked the priest, holding before the poor woman's sight the crucifix .before the poer woman's sight the crucifix.—
She never took her eyes off of the sacred emblem. They held her up so that the hangman could lift up her helpless head and adjust the infernal tope. The trap was sprung, and the poor creature spun around like a top for a mement, and all was over with her. She was speechless and nearly dead before she got into the hangman's clutches. What a shame! What a crime! This poor woman was the victim of Stanton and Joe Holt. This man still lives in this city. No one eyer sees a blind open tim of Stanton and Joe Holt. This man still lives in this city. No one over sees a blind open in the house. No one over talks to him about the tragedy. Now and then you may see him going to market with a servant in an express. He is on the ratired list of the army, and gats a good calary. It is said that he keeps a light burning all night lorg. He is dying of remorse. Constantly his poor victim dangles before his glaring eyes and murders sleep. If he has a friend in the world, no one knows it. When the trial was going on he was the ablest and most fascinating talker in the world. He is changed now. The world is against him. The reaction has set in. He is left alone of the murderers of that poor woman—the object of unireaction has set in. He is left alone of the indrederers of that poor woman—the object of universal execration and horror. Only once he tried to throw off the black lead. Then Andrew Johnson convicted him of lying. What a life! Clampitt is not as smart as holt. Few men ever were. He is not as rich as some of them who were concerned in the undoing of this poor

A REWSPAPER PUBLISHER WRITES Office Evening News, Augusta, Ga. Dr. Tutt: Dear Sir - My little for was attacked with pneumanic last winter, which left him with a violent court that lested till within a month sines, for the cure of which I am indebted to your valuable Expectorant. I had tried most everything recommended, but none did any good until I used your Expectorant, one bottle of which removed the cough entirely.

With many thanks, I am yours traly, JOHN M. WEIGLE.

HAD TERMISLE NIGHT SWEATS. Harold, and Atzerot. Not one of those persons belonged to the land or navel ferces of the Union. The war was over. The courts of the country were open; in fact, never had been elesed in Washington. Reverdy Johnson, the greatest constitutional lawyer since the days of traible night agents. I have been suffering for near-ly two years with a severe cough. When I commenced taking your Expectorant I was reduced to one hundred and sixteen pounds in weight. I had tread simust everything; had traible agents. I have been suffering for near-ly two years with a severe cough. When I commenced taking your Expectorant I was reduced to one hundred and sixteen pounds in weight agents. I have been suffering for near-ly two years with a severe cough. terrible night awests. I have taken half dezen bottles. The night awests have left me, the cough has disappeared, and I have gained fifteen cough has disappeared, and grant coupled and pounds in firsh. IMPORTANT QUESTIONS. Reader, have you caught a coid? Are you unable to raise the phlegar? Have you an irritation in the throat? A sease of oppression on the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in a region of the heart, shoulders and back? IF SO, OUR ADVICE IS to take at once a dose of Tutt's Expectorant; you will soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, piace a het iron to the feet take two of Tutt's Pills. You will soon fall into a pleasant sleep and wake up in the morning cough gone, lungs working freely; easy breathing and the bowels moving in a nat-ural manner. To prevent a return of these symptoms use the Expectorant several days.
